Tributes Paid to War Dead Here at Memorial Day Rites

With thoughts of the Korean war fresh in their minds, residents of Fayette County paused Wednesday to pay tribute to the heroic dead in special ceremonies held in Washington C. H., Jeffersonville, Bloomingsburg and most of the smaller country graveyards. There were parades in each of the larger communities and graveyard services.

Hundreds of spectators lined the mile-long line of march of parades in Washington C. H.

Members of the American Legion, the VFW, GAR auxiliary, DAR, high school band, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Eagles Lodge, Company M (Ohio National Guard) and the American Legion Auxiliary paraded here under the eye of Judge Rell G. Allen, parade marshal.

Judge Allen rode in a jeep donated by Company M and driven by a member of Company M. It was the first time in 41 years that Judge Allen did not march in the parade.

Ceremonies at Washington Cemetery included a talk by Rev. Francis T. McCarty, special commemorative services by the GAR auxiliary, firing of a salute and the sounding of taps. A short ceremony was also held at St. Colman's Cemetery.

Tells of Days Meaning

While scores of persons sat or stood under shade trees in the graveyard thinking of loved ones serving overseas or of those who gave their lives for their country, Rev. McCarty told the audience of the meaning of Memorial Day.

Rev. McCarty declared: "We take its meaning far too lightly.

It is a high and holy day, but we tend to make it in every sense of the word only a holiday."

Rev. McCarty said Memorial Day was a day of remembrance and that we should remember the following things: "the courage and bravery of men which caused them to go beyond the call of duty...the self forgetfulness of men...the sacrifice and the hopes and dreams of those who made sacrifices in order that the world might be at peace."

The speaker said Memorial Day was idealistic because "it is the dreams and visions of the idealistic people who enable us to progress through the pain of failure and the struggle to try again to see that real progress is made."

GAR Services

"We should point to flag decorated graves all over our land and we would say: 'This day is set apart to keep us from forgetting what they did for us.'" Rev. McCarty told his audience.

Honored persons on the speaker's platform were Mrs. Frank Little, GAR auxiliary; Mrs. Lawson Rhoads, American Legion auxiliary; James McCoy, VFW commander; Don Fowler, VFW adjutant; Samuel Douds, American Legion adjutant; Paul South-er, Legion chaplain; Rev. Harold J. Braden, chaplain for the day, Rev. McCarty and Dr. Charles M. Pierrick, American Legion, who had charge of the program.

After the services, which included two numbers by the high school band, the GAR auxiliary held special services to honor the war dead. Those taking part were Mrs. Little, Mrs. Kerns Thompson, Miss Mazie Rowe, Mrs. John Markley, Mrs. Lucy DeWees and Mrs. Ernest Cheney.

Color bearers in the parade were VFW members, Bob Penrod (Please Turn to Page Sixteen)

Serious Deficit Faced By Health Department; Board Meeting Called

Fayette County will have to put up an additional $2,150 for the county Health Department for the remainder of 1951, beginning July 1, if the present county health program continues as planned for this year.

This results from an announcement that the federal-state share of health funds for this county, beginning July 1 of this year, will be cut annually from approximately $8,000 to $3,750.

A crippling blow will be struck against the county department's operations unless the county finds a way to make up the difference, it is declared by local health officials.

If the training for public health nurses is cut from the annual budget of the county Health Department, the county would have to put up only $1,150 in addition to appropriations already made for the last half of this year's operations, it was declared, if the same program is continued.

On the basis of the annual budget set up by the Fayette County Health Department for this year, the county would be compelled to appropriate $2,300 more for 1952 than in 1951 even after eliminating the nurses' training program, if the same operations here are to be maintained.

The cut, officially verified by Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Ohio Department of Public Health, is reported due to an increased State Department expense because of the addition of more qualified city and county health departments being added in the state.

County Board Meeting

It was reported that Dr. Gordon Savage, health director for the county, would be here Friday at which time a meeting of the county Health Board will be held. It is expected that the whole situation will be thoroughly discussed at that time.

Probably also plans will be made for the county Health Department to send official representatives before the Board of Fayette County Commissioners when its members meet Monday to determine what financial help the county can extend to replace the heavy cut in funds from the state-federal departments.

Local county health officials,

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Comparatively few flags were displayed by local citizens Memorial Day and a great many of them were displayed backwards.

James (Red) Ducey, who spent most of his life in the U. S. Marine Corps and saw service in both world wars, counted 37 flags here and in Bloomingsburg that were not properly displayed.

To display the flag properly, always hang it with the field of stars in the upper left corner, and if the flag is spread out lengthwise, always have the field of stars in the upper left corner.

Ducey reported that about half of the flags were displayed with the stars in the upper right corner.

One of the oldest rose bushes in Washington C. H., if not the oldest, is a velvety red rose planted on the grave of James Ducey in St. Colman's Cemetery here 61 years ago.

James Ducey was the father of James (Red) Ducey and John Ducey of Washington C. H.

Each year since it was planted 61 years ago the rose has borne blossoms, and this year it is again filled with bloom.

Apparently the stalk is healthy and may last for another 61 years.

greatly worried over the heavy reduction of federal-state aid for this county, say they cannot understand why the cut for this county is so severe. They question whether other county or city departments in the state have been cut as much proportionately.

Dr. Porterfield stated in a telephone conversation to the Record-Herald that the refusal to permit the county Health Department to take up quarters in the Fayette County Memorial Hospital, had nothing whatever to do with the state-federal cut in financial aid to the county Health Department here.

It will be remembered that the rooms originally planned for the Health Department in the new hospital were used instead by the hospital authorities for laboratory, pharmacy and out-patient service, and two new wards of four beds each were placed in the space originally occupied by these departments.

Hospital authorities declared the need for more beds in the hospital was the reason for the change in plans.

County Health Budget

The total city-county budget set up by the county department for 1951 was $14,600. To this the federal-state aid of $8,000 was to be added, making a total of $22,600. This included the public health nurse training program. This latter feature is being eliminated entirely.

However, to receive any federal state aid, a department must carry a county health commissioner as it does now, with Dr. Gordon Savage in this position, also a minimum of one nurse, one sanitary engineer and one department clerk.

The county department now carries three nurses, in addition to the other three employees. Health officials here say that to cut the department to the minimum would wreck a heavy part of its program, which includes nurse visits to expectant mothers, aid in care of infants after birth and supervision of children, requiring such help up to the year the child starts to school.

School clinics are carried on through the school year also, together with much work on tuberculosis, including clinic aid, crippled children's work, attention to venereal diseases and communicable diseases.

The sanitary engineer's work is also regarded as vital. It includes inspection of dairy and other milk sources, water conditions, inspection of restaurants and slaughter houses and many other duties.

COLUMBUS, May 31—(P)—No one was injured when 22 cars of an eastbound New York Central freight train left the tracks and struck nine boxcars in a siding here yesterday.

Lee Wallard Auto Race Champ

New Record Is Set at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31—(P)—Lee Wallard, winner of the 35th annual 500-mile auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, has made it a driving contest again.

The post-war theory of competing in the "500" generally was to drive steadily at a speed a little better than previous winning times, more or less ignoring competition.

Wallard changed that in his first speedway victory. He pushed his hardest all the way yesterday to win at 126.244 miles an hour—almost 5 miles faster than Bill Holland's 1949 record.

The 40-year-old Altamont, N. Y., veteran treated the big race like a dirt track sprint.

It was the fourth straight running of the race without a fatality.

Mauri Rose of South Bend, Ind., trying to become the first man to win four times, wrecked at the northwest turn after 312 1-2 miles. His car lost a wheel and overturned. But he escaped with only

Swimming Pool Opening Has Big Crowd

ALTHOUGH THE TURNOUT FOR THE MEMORIAL DAY opening of the swimming pool here was far greater than had been expected in view of the cool weather, many spent more time sunning themselves than splashing in the cold water. The above picture shows how the more hardy youngsters splashed in the water while many more just looked on or jumped in and out.

Summer is here now...you can make that official and just forget about the calendar.... Why? The swimming pool at Washington Park was opened Memorial Day.

And, what an opening it was! The turnout surprised even the always hopeful, and usually optimistic, members of the swimming pool committee of the Park Board. It surprised Fred Pierson, the manager, too, and nothing ever daunts him.

There probably were many reasons for the people to flock to the pool, but two could be put down as carrying the most influence: (1) a bright sun and fairly warm day and (2) a holiday with everyone in a carefree and relaxing mood.

Just how many went through the gate, will never be known. Pierson said: "They just kept crowding through so fast when the doors were opened that we lost count."

But, a check on the clothes baskets in the lockers and a conservative estimate on the number of kids that came in their swim suits under a big bath towel or coat was possible.

400 in First Hour

Approximately 400 went through the gate during the first hour, on the basis of those calculations, Pierson said.

The pool was scheduled to open at 1:30 P. M.—and that's when it did open, right on the dot.

But youngsters had started gathering around the entrance nearly an hour before that. By opening time, it was estimated that nearly 200 were crowding around the doors.

When the doors to the bath house were opened, they just swarmed through. That was when

Russia Could End War In Korea, Admiral Says

WASHINGTON, May 31—(P)—Admiral Forrest P. Sherman said today Russia could call off the war in Korea at any time and may be inclined to do so as the United States becomes stronger.

Sherman, the chief of naval operations, gave those views in response to questions at the Senate inquiry into the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

He also testified: 1. In the early days of last December, the Pentagon felt that the Korean fighting might explode into a world war.

2. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff who was then in Tokyo, messaged the joint chiefs of staff on Dec. 4 that MacArthur "feels best solution would be to arrange Armistice on best terms available as soon as possible."

3. Collins reported on his return that MacArthur—as of Dec. 7—felt it would "represent essentially a surrender" if restrictions on his command prohibited

Air action against Red China, a naval blockade of China and reinforcement "of forces in Korea from Nationalist China."

The last was a reference to the Formosa-based forces of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Views Amplified

Sherman's suggestion that Russia may be inclined to call off the war, as the United States grows stronger, came in an exchange with Senator Lodge (R-Mass.).

Lodge asked Sherman if he believed "the Kremlin could call off this war in Korea if it wanted to."

"Yes, sir," Sherman replied. "Do you believe, therefore, that if we were in a position to put sufficiently firm diplomatic pressure on the Kremlin, we would induce them to call it off?" Lodge asked.

"Well, it would seem so, sir," Sherman said.

Lodge observed the U. S. is not "sufficiently strong at the present time to put such pressure on the Kremlin."

"I don't think we are sufficiently strong to make it effective now," Sherman said. He went on to a discussion of the U. S. rate of military buildup.

Sherman, when relating the Pentagon was concerned in December that a world war might be at hand, said the joint chiefs of staff sent MacArthur a message which said in substance that:

"They (the joint chiefs) considered the situation in Korea had greatly increased the possibility of a general war."

The chiefs at that time also directed MacArthur and other United Nations commanders to "increase their readiness without creating an atmosphere of alarm."

Situation Gloomy

Sherman said the military situation in Korea was regarded as gloomy then by both Washington and Tokyo, and the joint chiefs had messaged MacArthur they were "forced to conclude that evacuation is a possibility."

This was at the low point of United Nations strength, after UN troops had been driven back by the surprise intervention of the Chinese Communists.

In the Washington gloom, there were reports the United Nations forces might have to be pulled out by sea in a Dunquerque-like evacuation.

The situation changed thereafter and, in the light of recent UN counterattacks and the crushing of a spring offensive of the Reds, Sherman told the committee he believes the Korean conflict is buying time for improvement of the anti-Communist military position all over the world.

He said in response to questions he believes "time is on our side" in the armaments race.

WASHINGTON, May 31—(P)—The Defense Department's Korean casualty summary today showed an increase of 611 over last week to a total of 67,427 since the fighting began.

These casualties are based on notification to next of kin through mid-Friday, May 25.

Of the total casualties, 10,127 were killed in action, 43,889 wounded in action and 11,411 were reported missing at one time or another.

Of the missing, 102 have died, 1,207 have been returned to military control; 115 are captured and 9,987 are still missing.

The army's total casualties amount to 56,176 of which 9,487 are dead.

Total Navy casualties are 721 of which 115 are dead.

Marine Corps casualties totaled 9,925. Total deaths are 1,636.

Casualties for the air forces total 605 of which 175 are dead.

MacArthur Goods, 49 Tons of Them, Reach New York

NEW YORK, May 31—(P)—General Douglas MacArthur's worldly goods caught up with him today -- 49 tons of them, including three private automobiles.

Also aboard the naval transport C. C. Ballou, which docked at the Brooklyn army base, were 43 pieces of baggage belonging to the MacArthurs.

The Ballou, arriving from Tokyo, also carried the private tutor of MacArthur's son Arthur, English-born Mrs. Phyllis Gibbons, four members of MacArthur's Tokyo honor guard, and four dogs belonging to MacArthur and his staff.

Veck Makes Deal For Buying Browns

NEW YORK, May 31—(P)—Jimmy Cannon, sports columnist for the New York Post, wrote today negotiations for the sale of the St. Louis Browns to Bill Veck had been completed.

Cannon wrote his story from Chicago, where he attended last night's Ezzard Charles - Joey Maxim fight.

Cannon wrote the deal was completed last week. He said it included the Browns' farm club at San Antonio, Tex. He also wrote Veck intended to keep the club in St. Louis.

Veck, once a part owner of the Cleveland club, has been out of baseball the past two years. He often has been reported as seeking another club.

Brunt of Fight Hurlled at Yanks Moving on Base

Comms Baited To Make Another Premature Attack

TOKYO, May 31—(P)—Red troops fighting with renewed fury halted American advances today 13 miles from the Communist Korean strongholds of Chorwon and Kumhwa.

Other United Nations forces gained control of the 275 foot high Hwachon Dam with comparative ease.

Across the 125 mile Korean front, Allied forces stopped fought off sharp attacks.

Twelve Red jets tried an attack of their own on U. S. B-29 super-forts. Eight F-86 Sabre jets cut in with the usual result -- two Russian-type jets downed and one damaged. The B-29s, unharmed, went ahead with their bomb runs on a northwest Korea rail bridge.

The stiffest fighting swirled against American spearheads on the western and west-central fronts pointed at Chorwon, and around Inje on the east-central sector.

Fantastic Counterattack

Chinese units pitched a fantastic counterattack at dusk Wednesday against Americans in the hills around Yonchon, 13 miles southwest of Chorwon. In a night-long battle the Reds pushed the doughboys off the ridges and shoved them back 1,000 yards.

At dawn Thursday the Americans leaped to the attack. By noon they had regained their positions on the road to Chorwon.

Frontline officers estimated at least two Chinese divisions stood between the American and that Red stronghold, 60 miles north of Seoul.

Yonchon itself, said AP Correspondent John Randolph, is a no-man's-land. Americans patrol it by day, Chinese by night.

The Chinese started their first spring offensive prematurely April 22 to keep the Allies away from Chorwon. At that time UN forces were four miles away.

One of the announced objectives of the current Allied counteroffensive is to force the Reds into another premature attack.

During such offensives the Chinese have been cut down in the greatest numbers.

Supply Base Threatened

Thirteen miles east of Yonchon on a highway leading toward Kumhwa, a Red regiment stopped an American advance south of Chipo.

Chinese and North Koreans are sensitive to any approach to Chorwon and Kumhwa. These points have been their main assembly and supply centers for months.

But Allied troops found tough going even to the rear of these spearheads.

South Koreans had to fight to enlarge their crossings of the Imjin River, southwest of the Yonchon action. Heretofore they had faced comparatively light opposition in advances south of the 38th Parallel.

Just north of the border American troops were forced to withdraw Wednesday from positions near Yongpyong under heavy mortar, rifle and automatic weapon fire. The highway town is in the sector between Yonchon and Chipo, and about 10 miles to the rear.

Elsewhere on the west-central front an Allied tank patrol near Yonggong pulled back from strong Red artillery fire.

Husband Grilled On Death of Wife

NELSONVILLE, May 31—(P)—Sheriff George Bateman today said results of a lie detector test taken Sunday by Elmer Kesterson, 46—whose wife's body was found in a field near their home -- showed "discrepancies."

No charges have been filed against Kesterson.

The bruised body of Mrs. Ora Kesterson, 45, was found a week ago, a quarter of a mile from their home near Connett, four miles south of Nelsonville.

Kesterson took the test in Columbus.

WASHINGTON, May 31—(P)—The Veterans Administration said today that veterans who want to get in on its new life insurance program must apply in writing within 120 days of leaving service.

Edward O. Clyborn Dies in Cemetery

Edward O. Clyborn, 70, died suddenly of a heart attack Wednesday, Memorial Day, while decorating the graves in the family lot in the Sabina Cemetery.

He was born in Highland County Nov. 26, 1880 the son of Steven and Mary Elizabeth Miller Clyborn.

Survivors include his widow Mary Edith Witherspoon Clyborn; two brothers, Otto of Dayton and Isaac of Minerva; two step-sons, Marion Witherspoon of Baltimore, Md., and John Witherspoon of Dayton, and several nieces and nephews.

He was a member of the Sabina Moose Lodge and was a painter by occupation. He lived in Sabina for many years.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday at 2 P. M. at the Littleton Funeral Home, with Rev. Ray W. Huff of the Sabina Methodist Church, in charge. He will be assisted by Rev. Franklin Gaige of the Sabina Christian Church. Burial will be made in the Sabina Cemetery.

The Moose Lodge will conduct a ritualistic service at the funeral home at 8 P. M. Friday.

Friends may call at the funeral home at anytime.

Holiday Death Toll

A new record was set in the traffic death toll. The 71 killed on the highways was far below the National Safety Council's estimate of 110.

The safety council, noting the toll was running below the estimate yesterday, termed the record "a marvelous achievement." Millions were on the highways for the season's first holiday outing.

The lowest traffic toll on a single major holiday since World War II was 93 on New Year's Day, 1946. Yesterday's traffic toll is not comparable to the 1950 figure as the day was counted as part of a four-day holiday. The staggering total in the four-day period was 560, including 340 traffic fatalities.

In addition to the 71 traffic deaths yesterday, 28 persons drowned and 17 others lost their lives in miscellaneous violent accidents.

Record for Ohio

Ohio counted seven dead today in Memorial Day holiday accidents, with the deaths from miscellaneous mishaps outnumbering those from traffic.

Two persons drowned, four were victims of miscellaneous accidents, and there was only one automobile accident death reported in Ohio between 6 P. M., EST, Tuesday and midnight Wednesday.

Ohio FB Poll Ready

COLUMBUS, May 31—(AP)—Ohio Farm Bureau representatives will give Ohio congressmen results of a poll among farmers on legislative issues when they go to Washington June 14. D. R. Stanfield, the federation's legislative director, said the 45 delegates also will see Agriculture Secretary Brannan.

What Has Truman-Controlled Congress Done?

President Truman does considerable complaining about the present 82nd Congress. It has failed to give him, so far, all the extra power he seeks.

It is, however, the kind of a Congress in its political make-up that he asked for in his 1948 campaign.

This Congress contains 235 Democrats (counting one Independent-Democrat from Ohio) and 200 Republicans in the House of Representatives. In the Senate 50 Democrats and 46 Republicans are seated.

Four and a half months after this Congress has convened it has enacted 23 laws. It has done little or nothing constructive on any major issue, and there are several.

At this time the entire nation is up in arms over the amazing spectacle of the amount of government spending. Federal departments are hiring men and women workers by the thousands. There is no honest movement toward economy. Office space in astonishing amount is being leased on all sides although enough new space was acquired during the last war, which it was thought would be sufficient for a half century or more.

Huge new debts are being contracted and wild amounts of money are being sought.

Reorganization bills, such as suggested by the Hoover Commission lie in committee closets accumulating dust. The spenders are in the saddle and are riding high. Taxpayers merely keep on sweating.

The Old, Old Cry

Commenting upon the prevalence of sexy books and pictures, Kathleen Norris, the famous author and lecturer, says the American people should have their mouths washed out with soap. She thinks this old-fashioned remedy would cure many of the troubles of the nation for which the present generation is responsible due to moral laxity.

Miss Norris is all steamed up about the welfare of the young, and infers society is headed for the nether regions unless the American people change their ways.

Admittedly there has been a plethora of sexy literature, but the principal market for such publications is not provided entirely by the younger generation, which gives such concern to Miss Norris. The older generation reads much of the stuff, especially those who have an affectation of sophistication and who harp on being broad-minded.

Periodically somebody steps forward to shout warnings about the dangers which beset the youth of the land. Such dangers have been present since the beginning of society. But youth throughout the years has built up what medical science calls a tolerance for such dangers and, with few exceptions, is immune to them.

Impossible Merger

On the basis of the present politico-economic lineup in the United States, the projected farm-labor coalition is not likely to materialize.

Farm groups are bitter about the government's efforts to knock down their prices. Testimony of Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan that farm income is not out of line on the high side and is often too low merely aggravated the resentment.

But labor groups, spearheaded by the CIO, keep pressing for crackdowns on food prices which inevitably mean lower prices for the farmer. At the same time the labor groups continue to demand—and get—higher pay for themselves.

The Bells of Hope Are Ringing

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK. —(AP)—Everyone who truly believes in a world at peace has cause to weep for joy today.

The news from Korea should set a bell of hope ringing in hearts everywhere that yearn for a war-free earth ruled by law instead of brute power.

For mankind has found its best formula and instrument yet to gain that long goal. The formula? It is the pattern of ultimate unity now still only dimly projected by the United Nations.

It is the international police force—the first world army.

Its dramatic stand in breaking the backbone of the latest massive Red Chinese offensive gives a new and vital meaning to the blue and white banner it fights under. That blue and white flag today means more. The United Nations itself means more. And its army means tremendously more for the future of final international peace.

When the first United Nations troops went into action eleven months ago, they were often ridiculed as a police force and doubted as an army.

It was a force that had to build itself up in defeat and retreat, and it had many critics in its own homelands as well as in the councils of the enemy. It went into Korea to repel Communist aggression and restore order. But for many months of see-saw battle up and down that forlorn peninsula it had to fight for its own life. Its big problem was to keep from being chewed up and swallowed by the Red Tiger of North Korea and the Red Dragon of China.

Today it has matured into a great army, composed of a union of a dozen or more nationalities. They still speak different languages. But they have been welded together by sharing a digram on the field of danger—that age-old dream of turning the spinning earth into a place of general harvest instead of general hate. These men have learned to respect each other because they have fought side-by-side for the same ideal.

The smashing of the Red drive this time is more than a defensive success. It is a mighty victory for the United Nations army and its purpose. That army has been able to do more than merely repel Red aggression. It is now chasing the Red aggressors back across the lonely hills they came from.

Thousands of disheartened and disillusioned Communist Chinese are surrendering en masse—for the first time. They have learned the dazing firepower of freedom. This is significant to all. It may mark the real turning of the tide, the teaching to the men who rule Red China—and Soviet Russia, too—that crimes against another country's liberty no longer pay in the twentieth century.

Capitalistic countries already have learned that very bitter lesson. If the Communist countries now learn it also—well, then universal peace becomes more than a glimmering promise.

Red China may still want a post-graduate course in this type of instruction. But it appears her shattered armies will be unable to mount another giant offensive for months. In that time the United Nations army will renew its own might. The bigger the offensive the Chinese try, the less distance it has been able to go—and their casualties have mounted by the scores of thousands.

Diet and Health Wood Alcohol Poison If Not Used Right

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Wood alcohol is widely used in industry as a solvent and as an important ingredient in inexpensive anti-freeze preparations. In this role it can do no harm, but it is poisonous when rubbed on the skin, taken by mouth, or inhaled in sufficient quantities.

The correct name of this substance is methyl alcohol. It is sometimes disastrously confused with ethyl alcohol and wrongly put into hair tonics or used as a skin rub. However, most cases occur among those who drink it in the mistaken belief that it can be used as an alcoholic beverage.

Traces Remain
The kidneys cannot easily eliminate methyl alcohol, and traces of it may remain for weeks or months after it has been taken into the body.

In mild cases, the symptoms consist of headaches, dizziness, tiredness, and slight pain in the abdomen. As the condition becomes more severe, sudden blindness may occur or even sudden death. In some instances, vision is slowly reduced until only a small fraction remains. Many people become delirious. Once the patient lapses into a coma, there is irregular breathing and a blue color because the heart cannot pump enough blood through the body.

Wood Alcohol
The treatment in these cases is highly inadequate if a large amount of the wood alcohol has been taken. Many of the symptoms of the disease are due to an acidifying of the blood of the individual. This must be corrected as soon as possible and is done by washing out the stomach with baking soda and giving baking soda by mouth. Many patients in coma are not able to take the medicine. It is then given through a tube put into the stomach, or in the form of fluids into a vein. This procedure, however, should be done with great care.

A determination may be made of the amount of alcohol in the blood. This should be done at frequent intervals and can determine the course of the treatment. Oxygen may be life-saving in some of these cases and, if there is shock, plasma should be given. Stimulants are often helpful. By no means should any narcotics or depressing agents be used.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
T. R.: For several months I have had pain in my tail bone when I sit down. It happened after I did some strenuous exercise. Do you think I injured it?

Answer: Many times people injure their tail bone or coccyx when doing strenuous exercises or when falling down, especially if they fall down the stairs. Usually the condition improves with time. Many times, however, improvement does not occur and it is necessary to give the patient injections of an anesthetic around the bone or have the coccyx removed surgically.

Many big barns run north and south because in the old days farmers wanted to expose as little of the structure as possible to the effects of moss, which formed on the north side. The custom has carried over to the present day.

CADILLAC MOTOR CAR DIVISION

Start of a Wonderful Journey!

Well, there it goes—out from the great Cadillac factory into the hands of a proud and happy owner.

And what an odyssey it would make if its whole future course could be charted and foreseen!

—far journeys to the world's most fascinating places . . . grand appearances at the proudest social events . . . splendid visits to affairs of state . . . year after year of participation in the life of a fine American family.

Yes—and perhaps two or three, or even four fine American families—for a Cadillac is so soundly designed and built that there is no practical limit to its utility.

Truly, no more interesting biography could be written than an account of the life of the average Cadillac car. As the primary means of transportation for interesting, vital people—it is usually a spectator at important events —always in demand as a trustworthy traveling companion.

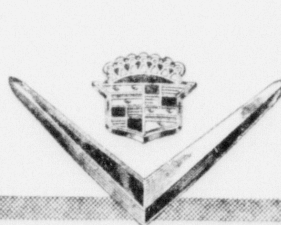

So there it goes, like the many thousands of its predecessors, on one of the most eventful and fascinating journeys a motor car ever began.

Wouldn't it be wonderful—and inspiring—to go along?

We are sorry indeed that delay in delivery of new Cadillacs continues unavoidable. If you are waiting for a Cadillac, please be patient—but hold to your purpose. There is no substitute for the "Standard of the World."

THE GRADE OF BEEF IS AS IMPORTANT AS THE PRICE

Albers are one of the few who advertise and have U.S. Government Graded PRIME or CHOICE BEEF. These are the two top grades and naturally the top grades under CPS ceilings have prices established in ratio to the quality. The price of U.S. PRIME and CHOICE BEEF is very little if any higher than ordinary grades of beef, making Albers Tender Beef your best beef value. When you check prices (in ads or stores) be sure to see that the grade is specified. You will note that in Albers ads and on the packages U.S. GOVERNMENT grades are plainly stated.

New Gas Line Plan Submitted

May Have Bearing
On Supplies Here

If residents of Washington C. H. have any fears of not getting enough gas to keep warm next winter, they may get a bit of comfort out of the announced plans of the Texas Gas Transmission Corp., for a $45,300,000 pipeline project it says is needed to supply natural gas to industries and homes in the Midwest.

The plans have been outlined to the Federal Power Commission in Washington, D. C., but it may be some time before their decision will be known.

Installation of both new and conversion gas burners in homes here has been halted by the Dayton Power & Light Co., under orders from the state Utilities Commission.

Officials of the D. P. & L. have maintained a policy of strict silence ever since the Utilities Commission started its investigation of the adequacy of gas supplies for Ohio nearly two months ago.

About all A. E. Weatherly, manager of the DP&L here, and F. E. Hill, a district manager, would say about the outlook for Washington C. H. was, in effect, that the DP&L expected to maintain adequate service to present users here next winter.

Mains Here Sufficient

They gave assurance, too, that the gas mains in the city and those bringing gas here from the big line that is tapped up near Sedalia were sufficiently large to meet the needs.

In that, there was the implication, although not so stated, that inadequacy of supply being studied by the Utilities Commission is statewide, and that Ohio is getting only a share of that coming into the Midwest or passing on through to the eastern seaboard.

Thus, the impression was given that the more gas made available to the vast area of which this is a small part of the more gas would be available here.

600-mile Line Proposed

The Texas Transmission Corp., with headquarters at Owensboro, Ky., has asked the Federal Power Commission to authorize the laying of 600 miles of line to increase its daily delivery capacity from 600,000,000 cubic feet of gas to approximately 900,000,000 cubic feet.

The gas would go to Texas customers in Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana and eastern Illinois.

Texas spokesmen said the company also plans to increase sales by 95,000,000 cubic feet a day to the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., a Columbia subsidiary serving Ohio cities, and to increase deliveries to the Louisville (Ky.) Gas and Electric Co. by 20,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Brandenburg Talks To Lions Members

Ray Brandenburg told members of the Washington C. H. Lions Club that the automobile was essential to the American way of life in a talk made before the group Tuesday night.

The speaker said that the automobile should not be considered a luxury but rather an essential means of transportation used by persons in all walks of life to get to and from work.

Brandenburg showed a movie on the value of polite salesmanship.

R. B. Sharp, Don Gibson and John Breiner gave reports on the recent state Lions convention held in Akron. Scout Chairman Ray French and Dustin Gilton reported on the Lions Club-sponsored Boy Scout troop.

Announcement was made that the next regular meeting will be the annual Charter Night dinner and dance June 12.

Fayette County 400 Club Has Wiener Roast

The Fayette County 400 4-H Club members enjoyed a wiener roast at the home of Johnnie Melvin at their last meeting.

They participated in a tractor-haywagon ride to the creek bank, where they enjoyed wieners and marshmallows roasted over an open fire.

When darkness came, the club members returned to Melvin's home for the business meeting, presided over by Bob Cullen, president. John Melvin was chosen health officer.

Swimming Pool

The gate keepers lost count. About all they could do was see that each one had a membership card or guest ticket.

Water Is Still Cold

Although the pool had been filled for several days, the water was still cold. The last few chilly days of drizzling rain had done nothing to help warm it up as had been hoped.

But, the water temperature did not keep it from being churned by swimmers and divers all afternoon.

Only the more hardy stayed in very long at a stretch, but they kept coming back after lying in the sun to warm up and dry off.

For every one in the pool, there were three or four stretched out on the concrete apron surrounding it sunning themselves.

The crowd was definitely youthful, with kids in their teens in the majority. Their teeth would chatter for a while after they got out from swimming and playing in the water, but they seemed not to mind that in the least, and soon were back splashing around again.

With so many sunbathers, the concession stand, spick and span from a scrubbing and painting and screening, did a land office business in ice cream bars (they even went for them while still shivering), popcorn and the like.

While the big rush came during the first hour, there was a steady trickle all afternoon.

Water in the wading pool, because it is so much more shallow, was not quite so cold as that in the big pool. The little tykes splashed in it under the warming sun through the middle of the afternoon while their parents, many in bathing suits, were content to sit on the nearby benches and watch them.

Memberships Held Over

The opening was spared the confusion of issuing membership as was necessary last year at the start. This year, most of the swimmers had their memberships from last year which do not expire until July 1.

Last year the opening was delayed until the pool was completed and all the equipment installed and tested.

During the first hour Wednesday, 27 memberships, including the associate memberships, were issued. That was increased by several more during the rest of the afternoon.

Master memberships, those for heads of families or specified groups, are $10 each. Associate memberships, those that come in under the master membership, are $2 each this year, an increase of $1 over last year.

The pool is scheduled to open in mid-morning and remain open until 9:30 P. M. every day. But, soon after the sun went down Memorial Day, the pool was deserted by the swimmers—it was just a bit too chilly.

MINUS CLOTHING

WILMINGTON—Pfc. Zane Williamson, of New Vienna, radar student at Keesler Field, had his clothing stolen while swimming, so he hid in an auto driven by relatives, wrapped in a blanket, and reached his quarters safely.

IT'S ILLEGAL!
MIDDLETOWN — It's unlawful to pitch horse shoes on Sunday under an old Hamilton ordinance. N. B. It is not being enforced.

Flower Show Attracts Many

22 Exhibits Made
By Good Hope Clubs

Flower fanciers and just plain lovers of Nature's beauty got an eyeful of colorful displays at the combined spring flower show of the Twin Oaks and Marilee Garden Clubs held in the Town Hall at Good Hope.

In all, there were 22 individual exhibits of the more popular spring flowers such as peonies, iris, lilies, columbine, delphinium and poppies.

The show was divided into three sections for the judging; one of eight classes was for the flowers themselves; another took arrangement into consideration and the third was for a special "arrangement in a niche".

The attendance was considered good but "not quite up to that of last year". One of the exhibitors said she thought some who did not get there were "too busy getting ready for Memorial Day".

But, she added, "we had a fine show... it was especially good in view of the weather... you remember that half a few days ago just tore up a lot of flowers in the gardens when they were at their best". The show was held only in the afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock so the flowers would not have time to wilt.

Mrs. Everett Rife, with her six first place awards headed the list of exhibitors. Mrs. Glenn Smith, however, was close behind with five firsts.

Evidence of Interest

One of the encouraging phases of the combined show of the two clubs was the number of entries and the number of individuals participating. That was regarded as evidence of growing interest in flowers.

The two clubs are made up of nearly 40 members of residents of Good Hope and the surrounding community. Most of them are women.

Although no material prizes went with awards, there was keen competition for the honors. Here's the way the judges placed the awards:

Peony (single, any color)--1. Mrs. Everett Rife, 2. Mrs. Howard Stewart.

Peony (double, any color)--1. Mrs. Roscoe Foster, 2. Mrs. C. C. Garringer, 3. Mrs. Frances Kearney, 4. Mrs. Retta Kearney and honorable mention, Mrs. Howard Stewart.

Moon over Mountain

WAYNESBORO, Va. — (AP) — When the moon comes over the mountain there's no cause for alarm. That's the word from the Waynesboro fire department. Seems a frantic caller phoned to report: "The mountain back of Calf Mountain is on fire."

Just as a fire fighting crew was being dispatched the same caller phoned again to report, rather quietly:

"Sorry. But it's just the moon coming over the ridge."

How can you Tell till you Try It?

THE days and weeks are slipping by -- and what have you done about it?

What have you done to find out how it feels to handle a high-powered and high-spirited '51 Buick?

We'll tell you this. In all the years that Buick has been building fine automobiles, there's never been the match for this one.

This is a car that likes to be compared--for power, for performance, for ease of control, for ride, and room, and comfort.

We can tell you its valve-in-head Fireball power sinks you back in the cushions at the touch of your toe.

We can tell you it's nimble-footed in traffic, or that it conquers hills with smooth and exultant momentum.

We can tell you it hugs the road and holds the curves as if it were drawn by an invisible magnet.

We can tell you that it has big, soft coil springs on all four wheels--or that its gas mileage will put a smile on your face.

We can tell you that Dynaflo

Drive* will spoil you for any other type of power transmission.

But you'll never know till you try for yourself what all this really means.

How about coming in for a sample? Once you've experienced all this for yourself, the modest price tags on Buick SPECIALS, SUPERS or ROADMASTERS will look like a double bargain.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, May 31—(P)—When Justice Felix Frankfurter leans forward on the supreme court bench to read an opinion or discuss a case with the lawyers, he sometimes gives the impression of a teacher addressing class.

This isn't odd. He once was a teacher. He was professor of law at Harvard before going on the supreme court. He has a very high forehead and he's very impressive and precise in his manner of speaking.

Still, from reading his opinions, I think he must often get impatient waiting for short and familiar words to jump out of his pen. He's not alone in this, as you can see from reading the opinions of some of the other justices.

They, too, frequently have trouble making words march one, two, one, two across a page like simple little peasants who wouldn't and couldn't confuse anybody.

Yesterday, when the majority of the court gave an opinion clearing the way for color television, Mr. Frankfurter had doubts about the wisdom of rushing things like that. And he said so by heading his own opinion with one word -- "dubitative" -- meaning he has doubts.

He not only had doubts about the wisdom of the decision but appeared to have doubts about such gadgets as radio and television anyway. And he expressed his misgivings about both.

(This puzzled me a bit since I was under the impression radio and TV are here to stay and I can't see why it's going to make things worse for us to have color TV instead of just black and white. Besides, with color you can see football jerseys better and know who's winning.)

As for radio, the justice said: "By making . . . (man) a captive listener it may make for spiritual impoverishment. Indiscriminate use of radio denies him the opportunities for reflection . . ."

I guess Mr. Frankfurter's friends must have different habits from the people I know. I know they used to listen to their radios a lot, when they first got them. Then they got fed up on some of the programs and only listen once in awhile now.

I could see Mr. Frankfurter worked up about this but still he didn't tell the rest of us how we could rescue those characters who wouldn't go off in a corner and have deep thoughts.

And it's possible that Mr. Frankfurter was so happy having these ideas that he forgot a lot of guys. After a tough day on a truck or clerking in a store, get happy, stretched out on a sofa with a bottle of beer, listening to Groucho Marx insult the customers.

But Mr. Frankfurter was particularly worried about TV, and what it can do to our future. He seemed to be referring to TV as "the new barbarism parading as scientific progress."

He was really disturbed about a statement made by some college president, whom Mr. Frankfurter didn't name. It seems this man, thinking about what people could get from TV, suggested the time may come when people won't have to know how to read.

That may come true, sure enough, although a lot of people wouldn't read much anyway and right now, when TV is still young, just one book would give some people such a splitting headache they'd run over and turn on TV to relieve the eyestrain.

There's still a chance the justice is wrong and it will work just the other way around.

Area AA Meeting In Newark Sunday

Several members of Alcoholics Anonymous here today were making plans to join other AAs from central and southern Ohio at a meeting in Newark next Sunday, a spokesman for the group said.

No names were mentioned, however, for anonymity is part of the AA creed and one of the keys to its success.

Weekly meetings are held regularly by the AA group here. The attendance varies, its members have said the membership here is something over 25 right now.

The big meetings come in the winter on the anniversary of the establishment of the group.

The meeting at Newark, a statement from the Central Ohio Group Fellowship headquarters in Columbus said, is "part of the general service conference plan, which was started this year to unite the rapidly expanding membership more closely." Another purpose, the statement said, was "to provide a means of protecting and preserving the basic principles, which have proven their worth during the 16 years since AA was conceived in Akron."

The gathering in Newark is to be given a complete picture of the overall operation of the fellowship, the statement said.

It was pointed out, too, that a film has been made showing the general office in New York and the plant of the "Grapevine," the national AA magazine, and allied service on the international level.

The area has a membership of "several hundred men and women," the statement said. Most of

Streams Here Are Not Open To the Public

Court Decisions Are Cited To Inform County Fishermen

Who owns the streams in Fayette County, and, in fact, everywhere?

Fishermen and others may save themselves embarrassment and possibly costly error by reading this statement issued by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, division of wildlife.

The problem of distinguishing between private and public waters has been a long and difficult one for many years.

Is there a fisherman alive who hasn't ask himself, "I wonder if I'm legally right in fishing here?"

And he may have asked himself, "Can I fish from my boat on a stream, even if the landowner of the adjoining bank prohibits fishing?" Or, "Does he own the land under the stream too?"

A search of the law reveals the following conclusions on the problem:

Ohio courts have handed down a long line of decisions that indicate the landowners, adjacent to or through which a stream flows, own the land to the center of them are expected to attend the Sunday meeting which is to be held in the junior high school auditorium in Newark.

stream, or where they own the property on both sides, the entire bed of the stream.

This right of ownership, however, is subject to the public's right to use the stream for Commerce and Transportation.

It follows then that unless a stream is navigable, and thus can be used for commerce and transportation, the public cannot use it without the permission of the person owning the underlying land. (This restriction applies to fishing while wading or boating, as well as from the bank.)

This, however, leaves a question to be answered too. That being --- When is a stream navigable in a legal sense?

The law says stream is navigable where there is a public terminus at each end.

Therefore, only partially navigable creeks or streams, which open upon a bay but lead merely to private lands, are not public, navigable waters.

The fact that there is water enough in places for rowboats or small launches, or that hunters and fishermen pass over the water with boats ordinarily used for that purpose, does not render the waters navigable.

So next time you go out on a stream or creek, play safe. Protect yourself by getting permission of the landowner.

Gene Smith Takes Leave of Absence From Rent Duties

Announcement was made today by John B. Barton, Columbus, Ohio district rent control director, that Gene Smith, rent representative here, has been granted a 30-day leave of absence commencing June 1.

During Smith's absence, Carl Martin Jr., of the Columbus Office will be at the local office, located in the Armory, Thursday of each week between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 3:30 P. M.

The local rent advisory board urges landlords and tenants with rent control problems to contact Martin, who will render all possible assistance.

Those landlords desiring a rent increase are requested to come into the office, and every consideration will be given them. Also tenants are requested to report over-ceiling rents charged so appropriate action might be taken by the office to obtain a refund for them for the amount paid in excess of the proper legal ceiling.

Wings Ready To Sprout On Japanese Airmen

TOKYO —(P)—Onetime Japanese airline pilots are planning to form in June the "Nippon Flying Club" to prepare for the post-treaty period when they hope to fly again.

The civilian fliers, grounded along with the military since the end of the war, have as their immediate project the collection of all available material from overseas to catch up on civil aeronautics developments since 1945.

The Japanese government set up a civil aeronautics agency earlier this year but it has had no reason to function as yet.

Reds and Cubs Split Twin Bill

Chisox Extend Winning Streak

BY JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)
Sagging pitching cost the Cincinnati Reds a chance to win a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs Memorial Day. The Reds won the opener, 6-5, but dropped the nightcap, 5 to 1, when Ewell Blackwell started serving up home run balls.

Paul Minner, the Cubs' hurler got one of the homers in the eighth to pull the Chicagoans into a tie and catcher Frosty Burgess got a two-run homer in the ninth to lock up the verdict.

In the first game the Reds had a 6 to 0 lead after five innings but the Cubs clipped Ken Raffensberger for a pair of runs in the sixth and then drove him to cover with three more in the eighth. The opening game was marked by Barney McCosky's appearance in the lineup as a starter and he clubbed Chicago pitchers for three hits, including a home run, before he injured his left shoulder trying to make a diving catch of a fly ball.

THE SUPER-CHARGED Chicago White Sox, a 30-1 shot in April, figure no worse than even money to win the American League pennant—based on Memorial Day barometery. The Sox streaked to their 13th and 14th successive victories yesterday, sweeping a holiday doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 5-2 and 8-1. The Sox cleanup, coupled with Boston's two triumphs over New York, widened Chicago's first place margin over the Yankees to two full games.

The Sox, idle today, begins a 13-game home stand against eastern clubs tomorrow.

Vern Stephens won the opener for the Red Sox, blasting a home run in the 15th inning for an 11-10 thriller over the Yankees. Stephens also batted in a couple in a five-run seventh inning rally that won the second game, 9-4, and increased Boston's winning streak to 10 straight.

THE ST. LOUIS Cardinals cut Brooklyn's National League lead to a game and a half with 4-3 and 7-3 triumphs over Pittsburgh as the Dodgers were held even in two games with Philadelphia. The Phillies came back to win the second game, 9-5, after Don Newcombe had outpitched Robin Roberts, 5-3, in the opener.

Cleveland vaulted past Detroit into fourth place, defeating the Tigers twice, 3-1 and 4-1. Rookie Bob Chakales pitched his first complete game in the opener and also drove in two runs with a single. Birdie Tebbetts' first home run of the season, with one man on base in the seventh inning, put Cleveland ahead in the second game. It was the sixth straight win for Cleveland over Detroit and the Tigers' 10th defeat in their last 11 starts.

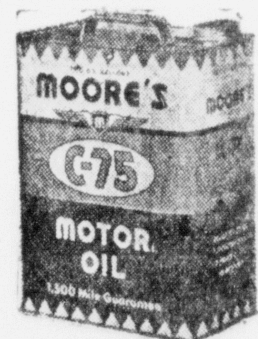

Conrado Marrero's six-hit pitching enabled Washington to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics.

First Game Is Lost By Jeffersonville

Jeffersonville's Cubs were toppled from the ranks of the undefeated in the SVO League Memorial Day by the undefeated team from Blanchester by a score of 12 to 9.

The game was filled with excitement right from the start when the visitors put across 8 runs in the first inning. A flock of Cub errors was largely responsible.

But, the Cubs bounced back from that sock and had evened the score by the end of the third frame by scoring one in the first, three in the second and four in the third.

Their joy was short-lived, however. The Blanchester boys came right back in the last of the fourth with three runs to take a 2-run lead.

That was too much of a jolt for the Cubs; they just couldn't recover from that second set-back.

The last half of the game was dull by comparison with those first four wild innings. The only run scored in the last five frames was the tally by Blanchester in the last inning.

6-2, in the second game of a doubleheader ending the Senators' nine-game losing streak. Dave Philley featured a 15-hit attack to give the A's a 9-5 victory in the opener.

The New York Giants and Boston Braves divided a pair before 46,499 fans at the Polo Grounds, the day's largest gathering. Bobby Thomson's bases loaded single in the 11th won the first game for New York, 6-5. Walker Cooper hit a home run and two singles to help Vern Bickford notch his seventh win in the nightcap, 6-3.

Season's First Win Hung Up by Moose

The Washington C. H. Moose today held their first victory of the 1951 baseball season in the Southwestern Ohio League—and how. . . .

They swamped the Hillsboro outfit on the Good Hope lot Memorial Day under the 15 to 4 deluge of runs.

Kenny Robinett, just out of Washington C. H. High School, took over the pitching chores for the Moose and set the Hillsboroans back on their heels with 6 hits. He fanned nine and did not issue that first base on balls.

The Moose had the game in the bag after the third inning, although they went on to add seven more runs in the remaining six frames.

The Moose, breaking into the win column for the first time, turned the trick mostly by solid hitting. Charley Daves wielded the big stick. He clouted two lusty home runs and filled out his turns at bat with a double and single. Beard also got a circuit smack for the Moose.

The Moose defense was pretty leaky and without masterful hurling by Robinett the Hillsboroans would have run up a bigger score.

The Hillsboro boys have not yet won a league game.

Shaffer fanned eight of the Moose, but almost evened that up by giving seven bases on balls.

The Moose play at Chillicothe next Sunday.

Linda B Wins; Pays $79.80

Nothing much has been heard from Linda B, from G. D. Baker's Belle Aire Stable, since the string was taken from training headquarters at the Fairground here to Roosevelt Raceway in New York, by Jack Casey, the trainer-driver.

But when word did come, it came with a bang.

She won a $2,000 pace in 2:06.3, but that was only part of it. The mutual payoff was what caused the excitement—$79.80 to win, $17.80 to place and $5.30 to show.

She was followed to the wire by Gay Abbe and Cash Kirk.

Malron Stakes Pace Is Won by Tar Heel

LEDO, May 31 —(AP)— Tar Heel and Scotch Rhythm carried away top honors last night in the malron stake of the grand circuit racing at Fort Miami Raceway. Tar Heel, owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C. and driven by Delvin Miller, won the pacing division which carried a purse of $7,061.

Scotch Rhythm took the trotting division, which had a purse of $10,997. Owned by the Two Gait Farm of Indianapolis, the horse was driven by Ralph Baldwin.

Chillicothe Blanked By VFW of Sabina

Sabina's VFW ball team today held a 2 to 0 shutout victory over a team from Chillicothe and the fans were still talking about the Memorial Day diamond thriller.

Hobbe and Callahan had the Chillicotheans helpless at the plate as they held them to two hits.

But, while the Sabina boys got to Strausser for 9 hits, they were unable to bunch them effectively.

The Chillicothe team is to play a return game at Sabina Friday night and Saturday the VFW outfit is to go to Dayton to meet the NCR crew.

28 Consecutive Indianapolis Races WON on Firestone TIRES

LEE WALLARD WINS 1951 RACE ON FIRESTONE TIRES AT AVERAGE SPEED OF 126.244 M.P.H.

CHAMPION race drivers DEMAND and USE the SAFEST tire made! That's why Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars at Indianapolis for 28 consecutive races. Authorities say that 500 miles on the speedway are equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving . . . 5 years of average service crowded into less than 4½ hours. For many years every driver in the race has bought Firestone Tires because no driver is willing to risk his life or chances of victory on anything less than the safest tires that money can buy. Remember that fact the next time you buy tires . . . protect your life and the lives of others by equipping your car with Firestone Tires. Come in today . . . let us take care of your tire needs.

Costs as little as $1.00 A WEEK TO BUY THE BEST
